

Aaron Dibben

April 21, 1972 - June 16, 2025

Aaron lived a life full of creativity. He shared that life with his wife, Sarah, and three children, Emery, Ella, and Lulu.

The love and joy he found in this life are carried forward through eternity into the next form of existence. We will forever hold each other in the a abundance of his love.

Aaron Dibben (Marvin Aaron Dibben) was born April 21, 1972, in Kansas City, Missouri, to Janice Norris and Marv Dibben.

Aaron grew up in Louisburg, Kansas, and the greater Kansas City area. He graduated from Shawnee Mission East High School in 1990.

Meeting Sarah in 1996, they married in 2003.

They settled in Hudson in 2009, building a family, community, and businesses.

Aaron was preceded in death by his father (2013) and brother, Gabe Dibben (1996).

He is lovingly remembered by his mother, Janice Norris; wife, Sarah Gayl Clark Dibben, and children: Emery (17), Ella (14) and Lulu (11). “ I met Aaron in Chicago. My band was on a tour and making little to no money we stayed with friends or people we'd meet at our shows. I bass player John knew Aaron from high school and skateboarding. Aaron's apartment was the smallest I'd ever seen. We piled in and slept after our show having a blast laughing at how the 5 men could barely fit. Aaron was thrilled to host us, everything with him was a laugh. Constantly smiling and turning every situation into something joyful. The next morning we woke and headed down to where our van was parked to find our van was missing because we'd been towed, mind you it was easily -10 that day and only Aaron had a proper coat. We all piled into a cab and Aaron directed the driver to the Chicago tow lot. I was amazed by his adaptive attitude and humor, I was freaking out he was calm and entertained by the situation..We found the van, went back to eat at nookies tree dinner in boys town. For 15 year after that trip I'd try to go get the same spinach feta omelette there, same as I had that day. Aaron was joyful, helpful and kind. Always stoked to help a friend and always positive. The world needs more like him. I'll miss him. He was a legendary human being. See you back in the stars one day..
