Antonietta DeLaurentis, 92, of Greenport, passed away Wednesday November 26, 2025. Born May 9, 1933 in Atessa, Italy she is the daughter of Vincenzo and Anna (Palena) Giuliani.

Family and unconditional love was the foundation of Antonietta's life. They were her number one priority, and she loved every moment surrounded by them. Antonietta was very proud and instrumental in raising her three children, nine grandchildren and six great grandchildren. Kindness, generosity, and thoughtfulness come to mind first when you think of Antonietta. She was an excellent cook and baker, and she loved to share all of her culinary delights. A sense of humor, a practical joke and a witty one liner was another of her unique characteristics. Antonietta never shied away from hard work. She was very involved with the family owned Bryant Farms in Greenport and she was an accomplished seamstress and dress maker for over thirty years at London Bridals & Formals in Hudson, NY. A member of the former Mt. Carmel Church and Holy Trinity Church in Hudson, Antonietta was very devout in her Catholic Faith.

To forever love and remember Antonietta are her children and their spouses- Stephen DeLaurentis, Robert DeLaurentis (Nadia), and Anna DeLaurentis-Bellacicco (Robert), grandchildren- Melissa (Ryan), Marc (Meghan), Matthew (Kelsey), Robert, Alyssa, Marlena, Julia, Daniel and Michael, along with great grand children Landon, Ivy, Anthony, Silas, Jackson and Desmond. Antonietta is also survived by her daughter in law Laurie Lambert Wilburn and several nieces and nephews. In addition to her parents, Antonietta was predeceased by her husband Rudolph and siblings Albert, Josephine and Mary Giuliani and Julia (Gabriel) Sorge.

“ Dear Anna and family..... What a woman your Mom was, loved her laugh and her smile. Loved seeing her come in for dinner to Colosseo with Rudy. May they be dancing in Heaven together again. My deepest sympathy to you all. Jane
