

Brian Bishop

February 4, 1968 - July 29, 2025

Brian Bishop, 57, of Claverack passed away Tuesday July 29, 2025. Born February 4, 1968 in Hudson, NY, he is the son of Willard and Joan (Trudell) Bishop. Brian worked faithfully for over 30 years at Meltz Lumber. He was an extremely hard worker who would drop everything to help his family and friends. He was a loving and devoted husband, father, son and grandfather. He loved his three daughters beyond measure....they were his world. Brian was a dedicated Pittsburgh Steelers fan. "Rollin" also enjoyed striper fishing and hunting. An annual participant in the Chatham Fair Demolition Derby, he was affectionately known as "Pinner". Brian had a great sense of humor, a self proclaimed clown who would make you laugh even if you didn't want to. Our hearts will forever be broken. Left to forever love and remember Brian is his wife Carol A. (Burnett) Bishop, daughters Trista Bishop, Cheyanne Bishop and Tiffany Rodriguez, son in law Greg Rodriguez, his parents Willard and Joan (Trudell) Bishop, five grandchildren, along with his brothers, sisters nieces, nephews, aunts and uncles. Visitation at the Bates & Anderson-Redmond & Keeler Funeral Home will be Monday August 4, from 11:00-1:00pm. Interment will be in Mellenville Union Cemetery.

Cemetery Details

Mellenville Union Cemetery

Mellenville, NY

Previous Events

Visitation Hours

AUG 4. 11:00 AM - 1:00 PM (ET)

Bates & Anderson - Redmond & Keeler
110 Green Street
Hudson, NY 12534
(518) 828-3371
<http://batesandersonredmondkeeler.com>

Tribute Wall

CF

“ Brian my husband I love you so much. I miss your goofy ways and words “Ballbag”. But you had a heart of gold for every person you meet. Life is so sad with you not here. I know you’re at peace. Most didn’t know your demons I did and I will always and forever love you. Fly high Ballbag ❤️. Miss you everyday of every moment ❤️

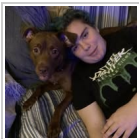

Carol A Burnett-Bishop (wife forever) - August 11, 2025 at 12:17 PM

SJ

“ Sherry Jennings lit a candle in memory of Brian Bishop

Sherry Jennings - August 03, 2025 at 08:53 PM

“ Deborah Watson lit a candle in memory of Brian Bishop

Deborah Watson - August 03, 2025 at 08:19 PM

L3

“ Lou Graziano 3rd lit a candle in memory of Brian Bishop

Lou Graziano 3rd - August 03, 2025 at 04:40 PM

DU

“ I didnt get to spend much time with Brian. But boy when I did I didnt stop laughing!! He was a blast to be around! Prayers to carol and his family!!

Dusty - August 03, 2025 at 03:34 PM

“ A sympathy card was purchased for the family of Brian Bishop.

August 03, 2025 at 01:40 PM

DS

“ I didn't know Brian that well. But, anytime I did see him he always said hello and asked how my family was. My condolences to his family.

Debbie Smith-Vandenburg - August 03, 2025 at 01:15 PM

PM

“ Patricia Moskaluk lit a candle in memory of Brian Bishop

Patricia Moskaluk - August 01, 2025 at 09:12 PM

RW

“ Trista so sorry for your loss

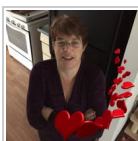

Ruthie Wfight - August 01, 2025 at 05:31 PM

EC

“ When Brian was like 3or 4 years old I would visit his mom at the house. He and his brother Bill would be outside playing under the porch at the house so I would leave and say come give me a kiss goodbye. Do you think he would come out. I had to crawl under that porch to give him a kiss goodbye. I loved that kid. RIP Brian. Always in our hearts 💕💕

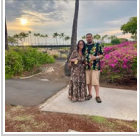

Elizabeth Coleman - August 01, 2025 at 04:37 PM

“ Kathy Platti lit a candle in memory of Brian Bishop

Kathy Platti - August 01, 2025 at 12:42 PM

“ Brian was certainly one of the “good guys”. He would support you when you needed it and let you know you were wrong when you needed to hear it. My kids and I spent many holidays with Brian. We all knew that he needed the biggest plate at Thanksgiving so that his food didn’t touch, which always made me laugh. Even after Jamie and I divorced, he never treated me differently. I was still his sister-in-law. My heart is broken for his wife, his children, his family, and all of us who loved him. He will always be missed and never forgotten.

Barbi McGrath - August 01, 2025 at 11:34 AM

L3

The world has become a darker ,somber place.Brian was the rare one.Could catch a fish out of a mud puddle,find a nice buck in a patch a woods that he didnt say he thought was there but knew.His intelligance unmatched.Loyal to a fault.A call at midnight to say "hey the honeymooners are back on" when they had been off for some reason.Or walk 12 miles with ya to get a car part when we were 16.Or show up at 2 in the morning tossing pebbles at your bedroom window because the 2 chicks we met at pg's finally showed up that we both gave up on.You go to oakdale pond,on the guardrails on right hand side going up around curve, you will see red, black and a little blue where we slid along it in a 72 cougar racing a cutless.Brian did not become what he took on, but what he took on became him if you can get what I'm saying and if you seen it, you knew it.Brian had this red opal and some guys from chatham were razzing it up, wanted to race em.Brian said only if he picks road.He picked the windiest roads up in omi.I thought to myself oh my God we are all gonna die.What I didnt know was Brian was over on these roads rippin em up for fun, for weeks.The boat they were in couldnt corner or stick like that opal did.Brian whooped em,it wasnt even close.Genius move you never saw coming.Excitement doesnt describe it enough.I could share more stories.It was a privelege and an honor knowing Brian.There forever will be a tear in my eye when I pass a lake,Hudson river or woods I know he passed thru but I'll smile when I see a buck or a fish break the water remembering..A shard of my youth has been chipped away and forever will leave a fracture in my soul.The rides back home,his Mom Joan buying like 20 cheeseburgers for all of us,like 5 or 6 of us.Mere words can not describe how sorry I am to Mr. and Mrs Bishop and his wife and children.May he rest in peace and know he wont be forgotten.
Lou

Lou Graziano 3rd - August 03, 2025 at 05:30 PM