

Catherine J. Saliske

May 12, 1916 - February 9, 2014

Catherine Saliske, 97, passed away at her home in Hudson, New York on Sunday, February 9, 2014.

Born May 12, 1916 in Rocky Mount, North Carolina, she was the daughter of the late Mary and George Daniel.

She graduated in Economics from William and Mary College in Williamsburg, Virginia where she lived for several years and worked for the Colonial Williamsburg Restoration. She returned to University where she gained her MS from Central Connecticut State University. She lived most of her life in West Hartford, Connecticut and taught in the Hartford public schools for many years before moving to Hudson in 1999. She was a member of Christ Church in Hudson and Saint John's Church in Hartford.

A memorial service will be held at Saint John's Church in Hartford in the spring.

She was predeceased by her husband Frank Saliske. She is survived by her daughters Margaret Saliske, of Hudson, NY, and Mary Peters, of London England, as well as her grandchildren Louisa Thompson, Christopher Foster and Lauren Foster.