“ Mr Atkinson,
You were just the nicest man. I learned so much from you at the farm when I was a kid. You let me help deliver a calf, and let me take home kittens everyday, mom made me bring them back. 🥹
You taught me a valuable lesson about balance, when I came on my bike to get milk, you explained my bike would balance better if I bought 2 gallons instead of 1! My funniest memory was slerping over in Darcie's room and you responded to our screams. You selflessly sacrificed your own safety by brandishing your newspaper and saving our lives from that evil little bat. You were a true hero!
Our Prayers are with Cynthia, Darcie, Betsy, Nancy & family. You were the salt of the earth. Fly high with the angels.

“ Prayers of comfort for you Cynthia and all of the children.

GOD has another hard working, loveable, and funny angel with him now.

Hopefully he will meet up with my dad! You know how farmers are.

I have lots of great memories of George and you while I was growing up!

Between church and the farm. Such good times.

Rest In Peace George!

“ We are so very sorry, he was such a wonderful, fun and talented man. We feel blessed to have known him. His eyes would light up when I called him “Critter Carrier” and when he talked about his children and grandchildren. He loved you all very much. His smile was so big when he was telling me about the trip to Nashville you all gave to them. Thinking back, he always had a little twinkle in his eye and a big smile. When we see his lamp, we will always think of him. We will be away for the services but will be thinking of you all. Hold your memories close. Love, David & Jeanne Stupplebeen

“ Cynthia, you may not remember me... I am a friend of Ellie Lylte. We both know that her heart would be on the phone with you asap, sharing your grief and pain. Instead, she does so from heaven, where she and George share a home. May God continue to bring you comfort and one day restore your joy.

“ George was a very witty loving soul. Heaven has gained another Angel. My dad will be pleased to have a fellow farmer join him in heaven. We also are proud to have a lamp that was hand made by George and adds a bit of farm to out living room.

I met Mr Atkinson in 1968. I was a child and he allowed me, my Dad and brother to hunt on his land. We'd go back every year and eventually became friends. He was a gentleman and a wonderful soul whom we always looked forward to seeing again. After nearly 50 years, I returned there and easily found his farm. He actually recognized me and we had a great time reminiscing together. Belated condolences to his family. Rest In Peace George.
