“ Was away in Myrtle Beach and missed and was unaware when John passed. I find it kind of ironic that at this point and time in writing to his loving family, I am holding vigil waiting for a death in our family at the Saratoga Hospital. Though we sometimes had our little spats, we always respected and liked each other, and I am very sad that I have missed this chance to say goodbye and offer my thoughts and prayers to his family.
Please accept them now and I will pray he is busting them up in heaven.
