“ To all the family, I can not believe my "Joycebird " is gone. She was the best business partner, cook, and friend that anyone could ever hope to have. Her laughter and caring, gentile ways were an inspiration to all who knew her. She taught me how to cook. Our customers came for the good food but I think more than that, they came to share time with her. I'm feeling very mocus {that's a word she invented}; it means depressed. I will miss her but at the same time I am grateful that she passed through my life.

“ I returned from a week long trip and absence from Whittier to learn that Joyce had passed. Joyce would always sit very close to me as I provided music for the residents of Whittier in the unit she resided in. I came to love her presence near me on my weekly visit and her sweet soft words. I will miss her. Dawn Collins, Certified Music Practitioner, Music for Healing and Transition
