

Lawrence P. Diehl

November 7, 2024

Lawrence P. Diehl, Jr, 58, of Germantown, New York, passed away suddenly while traveling in Florida with his family. Larry was the loving son of Lawrence P. Diehl, Sr. and Cornelia Diehl (Davis). He lived his entire life in Germantown. He worked at IBM for over 36 years and had made lots of life-long friends there. He loved working on his family's farm (Diehl Bros.). He loved cars and fixing anything and everything. He also loved his role as father and grandfather. He is back in the loving arms of his mother who predeceased him.

He will be missed forever by his loving wife, Catherine Diehl (Nobes), his father and stepmother, Larry and Sherry Diehl Sr., his children, Victoria C. Diehl (Taylor) of Carol Stream, Illinois, and Jonathan L Diehl (Katie) of Darien Center, New York. He will be remembered by his brothers, who were also his best friends, Craig F. Diehl (Michael) and Christopher R. Diehl (Tamara), and by his in-laws Richard and Patricia Nobes, Debora Schultz (Jason), and Christopher Nobes (Kelley) and nieces and nephews Alex, Jordan, Emma and Matthew. He had numerous aunts, uncles, and cousins. Most of all, Grampy will be missed by his granddaughters, Juliana Cornelia and Clara Maeve Diehl of Darien Center, NY.

Visitation at the Bates & Anderson-Redmond & Keeler Funeral Home will be Saturday November 30, 2024 from 11:00am-1:30pm with funeral prayers at 1:30pm.

“ Larry came into our loving and demonstrative family when he married Cathy. It took him a couple of years to get used to the hugging but soon he was one of us. His sense of humor made all of our family gatherings more fun. He was always willing to help anyone. I am sure that Grandma Carty was thrilled to welcome him to heaven. Thanks Cathy for bringing Larry into our lives.

Love,
Mary and Jack

“ Larry you will be missed so very much! You were an amazing brother-in-law! If you were laughing, I was laughing even if I didn't know the joke. You always made sure family came first. I'll miss the hand wave as you passed the house driving down the driveway or on the mower. Rest in peace!

“ My favorite memory of Larry, was his fantastic sense of humor, especially with the various labor unions around the POK campus. He was fantastic at repairing and fixing many of the sub-optimal and wayward delivery items. He never failed to make me smile and do an outstanding job ensuring end clients were taken care of.
