

Linda J. Saulpaugh

September 8, 1945 - March 25, 2020

Linda J. Saulpaugh, 74, of Livingston, New York, passed away peacefully at her home on Wednesday, March 25, 2020, surrounded by her family and friends, after a long and courageous battle with cancer.

A lifelong resident of Columbia County, New York, she was the daughter of the late Warren and Elaine Bohnsack Liepshutz of Germantown, New York. She is survived by her brother, Alan Liepshutz (Arlene) of Germantown, New York, and her sister, Sue Ann Mercer (Ronald) of Charles Town, West Virginia.

She was the loving mother of Laurel Jurkowski (Raymond) and Leslie Tompkins (Jason) and proud grandmother of Evan and Morgan Tompkins and Adam Jurkowski.

She graduated from Germantown Center School in 1962 and New Paltz State University with B.A. in education in 1966.

She taught at the N.Y.S. Training School for Girls in Hudson, New York, worked as a floral designer for the Rosery Flower Shop, and owned and operated The Inn at Blue Stores in Livingston for 20 years with her companion, the late Robert Terwillegar. She was also an active member of the Germantown Garden Club for over 49 years.

In accordance with her wishes, no memorial service is planned. In lieu of a service, a celebration of her life will be held at a later date at the convenience of the family.

“ I have fond memories of the many hours Linda and I spent horseback riding all over Livingston. We shared a love of horses and antiques, and could pick up a conversation in a moment, even if we hadn't seen each other for months or years.

“ i remember Linda as a neighbor from way back, but really got to know her better through the garden club. I always admired her spunk and dry sense of humor. I will miss her.

“ Deepest condolences to Leslie, Laurel, and all of Linda's family, especially her beloved grandchildren. She was a woman of rare talents - highly intelligent, (brilliant mind) artistic, astute business woman, pragmatic, all with grace, and beauty. Linda had all these attributes and more. She never allowed herself to wallow in self pity and if she had a fleeting moment of "why me?" she shrugged it off philosophically and went on living to the best of her ability. She buoyed everyone else around her with her acerbic wit and great sense of humor. She loved nothing better than to make people laugh. One day she said to me when people didn't get her humor, "what's wrong with them - I'm funny" and she was. Always ready to have a good time and enjoy life and all it had to offer. I owe her a great debt. She begged, cajoled, and finally convinced me to go on the Russian riverboat cruise with her. I had never been abroad and was fearful of the long flight and all kinds of other silly stuff. She finally wore me down and I agreed to go. It was the trip of a lifetime and I owe it all to her persuasiveness. While we were there, she kept saying to me, "can you believe we're in Russia?" No, I couldn't believe it either but that was the most memorable adventure of my life. Thank you, dear friend.

We have all lost a wonderful human being. We can be somehow consoled knowing now she is at peace, pain free and with her dear ones. I will miss you more than you can know.

Love ya, babe!
